

above No matter if you're a budding chef or a star baker, ensure you have all of your kit in one spot by placing your larder next to your ovens or kitchen island to create a practical preparation area. Modulova's FLY kitchen furniture, available at Designspace London, is shown here in Oxidated Walnut and stainless steel. It features a larder with pocket doors, drawers, open shelves and an extending stainless-steel worktop. Prices start from £25,000.

below Daval's Langham urban furniture collection, from £3000, features stainless-steel pull-out drawers with glass fronts and LED lighting. To make cleaning easier, the stainless-steel surface is finished with an innovative anti-fingerprint treatment - ideal if you have curious little ones who love to explore. KBB
